U. S. Army Sergeant Is Executed By Viet Cong

SAIGON UPI—Two terrorists bombs exploded near a Saigon restaurant tonight, killing and wounding a number of civilians. Women and children were among the casualties.

At least six persons were killed, including Americans, and 20 or more wounded.

The bombs hit the popular My Canh floating restaurant at a time when it was filled with diners. Other persons were strolling in the park outside the restaurant—a favorite evening pastime in Saigon.

SAIGON UPI — The Viet Cong claimed today that a captured American Army sergeant has been executed in reprisal for the execution of Communist terrorists and "numerous bloody crimes" against the South Vietnamese people.

A Communist broadcast from Hanoi, the capital of North Viet Nam, identified the American as Sgt. Harold George Bennett, 25. It said he was executed in South Viet Nam Thursday—the same day that South Viet Nam's new military regime announced a merciless crackdown on terrorists, traitors and war profiteers.

The Viet Cong report raised fears for the lives of at least 12 Americans known to be in Communist hands, including an American aid official who was kidnapped last February.

A Viet Cong terrorist was executed in Saigon's public market place last Tuesday and Bennett's fate appeared to be in direct reprisal for the Communist death. Several other terrorists are awaiting execution by Saigon firing squads.

The Hanoi radio report on Bennett's execution quoted an "order of the day" issued by the political arm of the Viet Cong insurgency.

The "order" made it clear that the Viet Cong may execute other captured Americans in an effort to force the United States to surrender in South Viet Nam.

"Punishment of Harold George Bennett, an American aggressor who had committed many crimes against the South Vietnamese people, serves to warn the U. S. aggressors and their henchmen who have committed acts of utmost barbarity that the murderers must pay (Continued on Page 3)

Dirksen Adds Fuel To Debate

WASHINGTON UPI—Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen, adding fuel to the mounting Senate debate on South Viet Nam, says he was told by a former Defense official the United States may have to double its fighting forces in the guerrilla war.

Dirksen, at a news conference Thursday, revealed that former Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, after a secret tour of South Viet Nam, had told Republican senators the increase would be necessary.

The Illinois senators said that he was under the "impression" Stevens' trip had been made at the request of Defense Secretary Robert E. McNamara. He said Stevens "if of the opinion that we have to double our present force in Viet Nam."

This would mean a total commitment of more than 150,000 men, Dirksen said.

Winners Announced In Judging Contest

Putnam County held a very successful judging contest on Tuesday, June 22, at the Community Building on the Putnam County Fair Grounds. The two classifications for judging this year were Clothing and Electric.

In Clothing, slacks, skirts, and sweaters were judged and in Electric, refrigerators were considered and selections made on basis of family needs. All contestants were also given a written test.

The following placings were given in Electric: Allan Sutherland, Marion Twp., first; Janet Lucas, Greencastle, second; Dick McFarland, Monroe Twp., third; and Sandy Sibbitt, Floyd Twp., fourth.

In Clothing, Carolyn Smith, Monroe Twp., placed first; Nancy McGaughey, Russell Twp., second; Pam Price, Cloverdale Twp., third; Phyllis Mandelco, Franklin Twp., fourth; Lynn Mullis, Monroe Twp., first alternate; and Donna Partick, Monroe Twp., second alternate.

The first four placing participants in each contest will represent Putnam County in the District Judging Activity which will be held July 1, in the Greencastle Senior High School.

Others participating in the clothing contest include Diana Miller, Vickie Aker, Diane Maddox, Audrey Harvey, Vickie Gibson, Carol Lawler, Diana Nichols Floren Danforth, Brenda Phillips, Wanda Morlan, Shirley Allegree, Sandy Buntin.

Bomb Damages U. S. Consulate

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana UPI — An explosion believed to be the blast of a saboteur's bomb rocked the U. S. consulate here Thursday night, injuring one person and causing extensive damage.

The victim of the explosion was an unidentified employee of the John F. Kennedy U. S. Information Service Library, which is on the first floor of the consulate building. The employee lived in an apartment next to the rooms occupied by the library.

Bombings by anti-government saboteurs, believed to be members of ex-premier Cheddi Jagan's PPP party, have been frequent occurrences in recent weeks.

Mail Box Damaged

A firecracker badly damaged the mail box at the home of Gale O'Hair, north of Greencastle, Thursday night.

In reporting the incident, Sheriff Kenneth Knauer said that sale of firecrackers is against the law in Indiana.

He warned that persons selling or buying firecrackers face prosecution.

High And Low

NEW YORK UPI — The highest temperature reported Thursday to the U. S. Weather Bureau, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, was 103 at Presidio, Tex. The lowest reported this morning was 34 at Pellston, Mich.

BULLETIN

EL TORO MARINE BASE, Calif. UPI—A military air transport carrying 84 Marines and Air Force crewmen crashed today in mountainous terrain four miles north of here. There apparently were no survivors.

A Marine spokesman said the KC135 plane carried 72 Marines and a crew of 12 Air Force men.

The jet air transport disappeared shortly after takeoff at 2:45 a.m. on a flight to Honolulu, but darkness, light rain and low clouds hampered the search.

A search party located the wreckage in the mountainous terrain between El Toro and Irvine Lake just inland from the Pacific Ocean in Orange County.

Two San Diego sheriff's deputies at the Solano Beach substation south of here reported hearing an explosion shortly after the plane's takeoff.

Court Of Honor At Brick Chapel

Troop No. 97 will hold a Court of Honor Sunday evening 7:30 in Brick Chapel Church.

Perhaps the largest number of awards will be made in the history of the troop. One Scout will become a Star Scout.

The public is invited to join in this Court. Robert Reeves will be in charge of the activities.

The troop now has 17 registered scouts and will press on for their goal of 20. Alden Webber is the Scout Master with James Ritter as Assistant Scout Master.

Sheriff Reports Traffic Mishap

Sheriff Kenneth Knauer investigated a traffic accident at the Farm Bureau, on Elidabeth Street, this morning.

Vehicles involved were a 1961 Mercury driven by David Clark, Route 3, and a Dodge truck driven by Don W. Phillips, Route 4.

The sheriff estimated the damage at $300 to the auto and $125 to the truck.

Nation To Observe Helen Keller's Birthday

WESTPORT, Conn. UPI — A frail little lady confined to a sightless, soundless world within the boundaries of a small estate here will celebrate her 85th birthday on Sunday and the nation will celebrate with her.

Helen Keller, who has walked with kings and presidents in her lifelong crusade to help the world's handicapped, will have only her brother, Phillip Keller of Dallas, Tex., nieces and nephews and a few close friends with her for the event. Her health does not allow the exertion of more than a few visitors at a time.

Miss Keller has always said that her real birthday was not June 27, 1880, in Tuscumbia, Ala., but March 3, 1887, when a young teacher of the blind, Anne Sullivan, first taught her how to communicate by tapping words into her hand. Until then she had been a "dumb" and savage little animal, robbed of sight and hearing by a fever at 19 months. Miss Sullivan later taught her to speak.

Her succeeding achievements, including a college degree with honors and a brilliant career as lecturer, author, humanitarian, and world traveler, made her the most famous and undoubtedly the most admired woman in the world. For her birthday, the U. S. Senate has passed a special resolution citing her "tireless devotion" to the handicapped, and the governors of most states have declared Helen Keller Day.

Her enduring contribution of courage and tenacity in the face of overwhelming handicaps can best be realized by remembering that Mark Twain teamed her with Napoleon as "the two most interesting characters of the 19th Century." She has been a woman devoted to the needs of the moment in both centuries in which she lived, and she has been keenly aware that her job would never be done.

Miss Keller always was quick to emphasize that her case was not unique. According to the American children of school age today, of which only a third are receiving an education, and 5,000 deaf-blind adults, many but not all of whom benefitted from the achievements of Helen Keller and her beloved "teacher," Anne Sullivan Macy.

Direct Action Is Postponed

NEW YORK UPI — The policy-making body of the American Medical Association (AMA) postponed direct action in Medicare until that measure becomes law. But the House of Delegates made clear its professional distaste and its unwillingness to get behind "any system which it believes to be detrimental to the public welfare."

The 234-member house thus side-stepped action either approving or opposing demands in some quarters of the medical profession for a doctor boycott of Medicare.

The house adopted a resolution stating that it will review Medicare when its legislative fate is determined — and will take whatever action is deemed necessary.

The Putnam County Historical Society met at Old Trail Inn on Wednesday evening for an interesting meeting. Mrs. William Boatright, president, conceded that it would be appropriate to observe Flag Day and July 4th. She read "Hats Off! The Flag is Going By," by Henry Hallen Bennett. Then all gave the pledge of allegiance to the flag. She welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Johnson of Russell Township and Mr. John Aikins from Indianapolis besides others who had not attended for some time.

The treasurer gave a yearly report which showed that the society had done some very important things in a historical way. Mrs. Boatright and Mrs. Virginia Brann reported the stories of Captain Donohue and the formation of G.A.R. were given to the archives by Virginia Donohue Wheeler. Also the Bethel Cemetery records are copied. Mrs. Clapp gave the archives a Doctor Slaven's of Portland Mills account book of 1839. Doctor bills were from 25¢ up to $1.00.

Mrs. Boatright urged the ringing of bells at 1:00 p.m. on July 4th. These should be rung by every individual or family for four minutes along with church and other bells in the county.

Mrs. Perry Michael made a report of the nominating committee. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. William Boatright; vice-president, Dr. George Manhart; secretary, Mrs. Robert McCullough; treasurer, Mrs. Grace Hurst; historian, Miss Carrie Pierce.

For the program Dr. Manhart presented Sanford Romine who gave much interesting history of Clinton Township. This township seemed to be divided into a north and a south part with the line running just north of the Clinton Center School building.

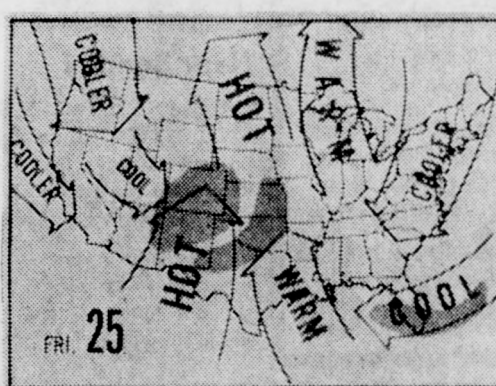

The southern part came mostly from Kentucky while the northern forefathers came from Delaware. From 1830-1883 there was a town northwest of Clinton Falls called Boonville. There were about sixty families and business establishments of a saddle shop, two tanneries, a blacksmith shop and a sawmill. The Sigler house, built in 1851 was made from logs from that mill.

He spoke of the land office being opened in Crawfordsville in 1818, and people bought land from the government there. The Indians camped along Ramp Creek and some gold was panned there. Many other interesting events were mentioned.

Resuscitator Run

The rescue truck made a run to the Earl Hinkle residence, 107 Fairview, at approximately 7:00 Thursday afternoon when it was reported that Mr. Hinkle had trouble breathing.

COUNTY DELEGATES TO 4-H CENTER

Putnam County recently sent eleven delegates to the State Junior Leader Conference at the 4-H Center outside Lafayette. Those attending included Margorie Lou Cash, Linda Frye, Patty Maddox, Diana Nichols, Wanda Sutherland, Becky Bruner, Allan Sutherland, Dick McFarland, Jerry Sinclair, Steve Hurst, and Ralph Fry. Putnam County was also fortunate to have a representative from last year to go back this year on the State Junior Leader Council. This was Jim Albin and while at the conference he taught several classes in citizenship. Allan Sutherland was elected this year by his district to return on the Council next year. He will be doing similar work to that of Jim Albin's. This is quite an honor to be elected to this position.

At Last, A Cold Cure

(From: Newton, Iowa, News)

We wouldn't like to raise anyone's hopes prematurely, but it's beginning to look as if science, which can photograph the moon at lose range and send men walking about in space, is now making some inroads on the common cold.

At Tulane University Hospital it was found that some suspended cotton balls soaked in an anti-biotic kept everyone in the room from contracting Asian flu, while patients in another room without the substance came down with the disease. Moreover, people who already had colds found the duration was only half what it ordinarily is, and the severity of the symptoms was lessened.

Science, with its customary reserve, isn't kicking its heels together and making any wild claims, but it is at least paying some attention to a problem that affects everyone in a completely understandable way. That, in itself, is a triumph.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. William Langdon of Cloverdale was the setting for the marriage of their daughter, Jenny Langdon, and Leland Roger Fryar last Saturday afternoon, June 19th.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fryar, Bowling Green, are the parents of the bridegroom.

The bride wore a gown of white organza. Her veil was secured by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds with a lavender orchid in the center.

Karen Langdon of Los Angeles, Calif., sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of yellow organza and a corsage of white carnations and yellow rose buds.

Best man was Larry Niehart, Columbus, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Cloverdale High School and attended Indiana University. The bridegroom is a graduate of Patrickburg High School and is now serving in the U. S. Army.

They will live at Fort Gordon, Georgia.

Expert Defensive Signal Used To Defeat Contract

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

About thirty years ago, Hy Lavinthal, of Trenton, N. J., wrote about a defensive signal that all experts have enthusiastically adopted. His Suit Preference Signal is a way to show by your play in one suit where you have your side strength.

Opening lead — ♣ A

West leads the singleton ace of clubs, the best opening. Unless West is crazy, this lead of dummy's suit is clearly marked as a singleton.

If the defenders are non-experts, West will lead a diamond at the second trick, hoping to reach his partner's hand with the suit he has bid. This is natural, but it doesn't work.

South wins the diamond switch and draws trumps. Then he runs the clubs and gives up one spade at the end, scoring 650 points for game, rubber and one overtrick.

EXPERT SIGNAL

East defeats the contract by using the expert signal. East plays the ten of clubs at the first trick. This play of his highest club cannot mean that East wants a club continuation. Everybody knows that the lead is a singleton.

Instead, this signal means that East's strength is in spades, the higher side suit, instead of diamonds, the lower side suit.

Heeding this signal, an expert West shifts to the three of spades at the second trick. East takes his two spades and returns a club. West ruffs and leads another club. West's ruff puts the contract down three before South can even gain the lead.

Some players use this signal so much that they lose sight of the primary use of the high card — as a signal to show strength in that suit rather than as a way to show strength in a different suit.

DAILY QUESTION

As dealer, you hold: Spade 8 7 4 Heart K Q 10 9 8 Diamond A K Club 8 4 3. What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one heart. You have 12 points in high cards and 1 point for the doubleton, enough for an optional bid. You decide to bid because you have a very strong five-card major suit.

Bid Is Rejected By Red China

LONDON UPI—Communist China today "sternly rejected" a Commonwealth bid to send a British-led Viet Nam peace mission to Peking.

A Communist New China News Agency broadcast monitored in London blamed the war on the United States and charged that Britain has given Washington "full backing."

The development came as members of the peace mission, encouraged by new indications of possible support from Russia, delved into ways to end the war in Viet Nam.

The Communist news agency said Red China's note of rejection was handed to British Interim Charge d'Affaires K. M. Wilford in Peking this morning by Ting Hao, deputy director of the Chinese Foreign Ministry's Department of West European affairs.

It quoted the note as saying the substance of the Viet Nam problem was that the United States has been continuously expanding its war of aggression against South Viet Nam and (North Viet Nam) in total violation of the Geneva agreements."

A Local Teenager's View

By Janet Staub

Well, it seems that as a town grows, it becomes a "typical town" full of gangs, and "tuffs."

As Greencastle develops its business, recreational and residential areas, let's keep it from becoming a "typical town."

The trouble makers may not be new families, or old families, middle class families, or even rich families. They can be little kids, middle-aged people, but most of the time it is blamed on teenagers. I won't say all teens are angels, but likewise, not all teens are juvenile delinquents. A typical teenager, when caught doing something wrong, gives the reason that they didn't have anything to do, and their parents didn't want them hanging around the house all the time.

The first part of this excuse is true because the typical trouble makers are like stone walls. They don't hear or see a thing and they won't use their brains to think of something constructive. The second part of the excuse may also be true because a teenager around any household presents quite a problem. When parents take the responsibility of rearing a child, it includes teaching them right from wrong.

Let it never be said that Greencastle is a "typical town."

74 Arrested In Jackson, Miss.

By United Press International

Seventy-four civil rights demonstrators were arrested at Jackson, Miss., Thursday when they refused to break up a "rally" protesting alleged police brutality.

The group, including 43 whites flopped to the sidewalks when ordered to disperse. Officers dragged many of them to police vans.

Almost 900 demonstrators have been arrested in the Mississippi capital within the past two weeks, largely on charges of disorderly conduct and parading without a permit.

Attorneys obtained the release of nearly 400 jailed demonstrators Thursday. They said $45,000 for bonds had been donated by a "leading New England businessman" who wished to remain anonymous.

The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans Thursday directed civil rights attorneys to apply again to a federal district court to have the cases of the demonstrators removed from state to federal jurisdiction.

-Saigon

for their blood debts," the order said.

Bennett was captured last Dec. 29 during the bloody battle at Binh Gia, a village for Roman Catholic refugees from North Viet Nam 40 miles south-east of Saigon.

He was one of two American sergeants captured when the 170-man force of South Vietnamese Rangers they were advising was overrun by Communist guerrillas. The Ranger unit was wiped out when the Viet Cong opened fire from the fringes of a clearing where a helicopter landing was made.

The kidnapped American aid official, Gustav Hertz, 46, of Leesburg, Va., fell into Communist hands on Feb. 2 as he was taking a motorbike ride just beyond the Saigon city limits. The Viet Cong has threatened to kill him if the South Vietnam government goes through with the execution of a terrorist convicted of bombing the U. S. Embassy last March 31.

Bennett is at least the second captured American reported to have been killed by the Viet Cong. In April, the U. S. Embassy announced that Joseph W. Grainger, and American aid official, was shot down while trying to escape from the Communists. Grainger was captured last August during an inspection tour of the countryside.

night at a record turnout for a political fund-raising dinner in Washington.

The went to cheer, and they did cheer President Johnson, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Democratic congressional leaders who told them what a great job Congress was doing for the American people and the entire world.

The President said that the present Congress, 2 to 1 Democratic, was "the most effective and the most rewarding Congress" in the U. S. history.

Johnson said the Republicans had long tried to divide the Democrats and had finally succeeded because the turnout was so great "we couldn't get 'em in one hall."

There were some 6,000 Democrats in the National Guard Armory and more than 2,000 more across town in the ballroom of the Washington Hilton Hotel. The crowds, at $100 each, were expected to net more than $700,000 for the party.

It was obvious that the Democrats were in better shape, politically, than either party has been for years, if ever. Ten years ago during the Eisenhower administration, the Republicans could fill the armory if Dwight D. Eisenhower was going to speak.

Roudebush Raps Supreme Court

WASHINGTON UPI — Rep. Richard L. Roudebush, R-Ind., says the Supreme Court threatens "to reduce the voice of the farmer and small townsman to a whisper and make them legislative slaves to big cities and urban centers."

He testified Thursday before the House Judiciary Committee on the need he said existed to overturn the court's "one-man, one-vote" ruling under which both houses of state legislatures must be apportioned solely on the basis of population.

Roudebush appeared in behalf of his proposed constitutional amendment to permit the voters of each state to decide, through elections, the apportionment of their legislatures.

"The American farmer represents only 7 per cent of the total population of this nation," he said. "Yet the general interests and well-being of the farmer are important to every American. The Supreme Court would leave rural America voiceless in the legislative halls. Let us make no mistake about the political implications of this ruling. Advocates of one-party, big-city power politics together with the collectivists and socialists of this country have claimed the court decision as a victory, and a defeat for representative government."

Koreans Mark Anniversary

SEOUL, South Korea, UPI — South Korea today marked the 15th anniversary of the Korean War, a three-year conflict that killed more than 33,000 American fighting men.

President Park Chung Hee, who served as an army officer during the war, led government officials and military leaders in a pilgrimage to the Dongjak-Dong national cemetery to pay tribute to the battle dead.

The three services of South Korea's armed forces held separate ceremonies and renewed pledges to meet any future Communist aggression.

On June 25, 1950, troops from Communist North Korea poured across the 38th Parallel in an all-out attempt to overrun South Korea. It marked the beginning of a bitter struggle that pitted U. S. troops against Communist Chinese forces for the first time.

Before a truce was signed on July 27, 1953, almost one million casualties had been suffered by both sides, including 55,000 Americans killed or wounded.

Today, American soldiers still stand guard along the 38th parallel.

Delinquency Bill

WASHINGTON UPI — The House Thursday approved authority for spending $16.5 million on federal juvenile delinquency control projects in the next two years. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The legislation would authorize $6.5 million for the years starting next Thursday. It also would extend the program through 1967, with authority to spend $10 million in the last year.

'Project Boosted

WASHINGTON UPI — Mrs. Lyndon Johnson's campaign to beautify the nation's capital is getting a boost from school children, servicemen and a "secret" admirer of her 21-year-old daughter, Lynda.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carpenter, the First Lady's press secretary, said Thursday the unidentified admirer had donated $300 to the beautification committee with the request it be used to plant roses around a tennis court. Mrs. Carpenter admitted the "secret" admirer was well known to Lynda and other members of the Johnson family.

Renew Battle Over Powers

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The battle over separation of powers among executive, legislative and judicial branches of government is scheduled to be renewed today in action brought by an attorney.

The renewal comes on a suit filed against Governor Branigin, Lt. Gov. Robert L. Rock, House Speaker Richard C. Bodine, Senate President Pro Tem Jack Mankin and other state executive and legislative officers by Leo L. Kriner, an Indianapolis attorney.

Kriner objects to a 1965 legislative action whereby a Judicial Study Commission was formed and given $50,000 to conduct a study of Indiana courts and make recommendations to the 1967 Legislature.

The commission was scheduled to hold its organization meeting today, but this was cancelled after Marion County Superior Judge Glenn W. Funk on June 10 issued a temporary restraining order.

The question of whether this temporary restraining order should be made permanent is up for consideration in Funk's

Eston C. Cooper, Auditor

Deputy Atty. Gen. James Manahan will represent state officials and seek to have the temporary order dissolved so that the Judicial Study Commission can proceed with its assignment.

Kriner seeks to have the order made permanent.

"I object to the Legislature interfering with the courts," he said. "The state constitution provides for separation of powers. One branch cannot be controlled or embarrassed by another department."

However, State Rep. Robert Bridwell, D-Indianapolis, an attorney-member of the commission, declared that the Legislature never intended to invade the judicial area of government.

Face Tougher Test In House

WASHINGTON UPI — Western lawmakers, out-gunned in the Senate when they tried to halt the taking of silver out of dimes and quarters, face an even tougher test in the House.

The Senate, ignoring the pleas of senators from the silver states, voted 74 to 9 Thursday to make a historic change in the nation's coinage by eliminating all silver in the smaller coins and by reducing it from 90 to 40 per cent in half dollars.

The measure requested by President Johnson, was passed after the westerners were shot out of their saddles in a fight to keep 40 per cent silver in dimes and quarters as well as the 50-cent pieces.

In the House, where western congressmen are more badly outnumbered, astern lawmakers—especially those from New England—are hopeful they can eliminate silver even from the half dollars bearing the portrait of the late President John F. Kennedy.

The House bill, still penned up in the Rules Committee, was amended by the House Banking Committee to knock silver out of the half dollar as well as dimes and quarters.

Girl Penalized For Vandalism

WABASH UPI — A 13-year-old Wabash girl was placed on probation for one year Wednesday

nesday by Juvenile Court Judge John W. Beauchamp after she admitted vandalism at a cemetery here last month.

Two other youths named in a juvenile delinquency petition charging malicious trespass were found innocent and charges were dismissed.

The girl, Rebecca Ann Roffelsen, was specifically charged with damaging tombstones and other property in Falls Cemetery last May 14. Beauchamp set as terms of her probation that she make restitution for the damage, that she be home each evening from 6 p.m. until 6 a.m., and that she not ride in an automobile except in the company of a parent.

6 VA Hospitals Will Be Closed

WASHINGTON UPI — Veterans Administration chief William J. Driver said Wednesday no final decision had been made on when six veterans hospitals would be closed. However, he said all probably will be shut down by Sept. 1.

The six facilities were among 14 hospitals and old soldier's homes originally scheduled for closure in an economy move approved by President Johnson.

In the wake of strong congressional protests, Johnson recently accepted a recommendation by a special committee that all but six hospitals be kept open. Also spared were some VA regional office that had been scheduled for elimination.

Driver said the six hospitals that did not escape the axe would not be closed on a common date. He said he hoped to stagger the shutdowns to minimize as much as possible the impact on both patients and employees.

A date for closure of each affected hospital will be set as much as possible in accordance with local conditions, Driver said.

Final decisions on closures will depend on action by Congress on the VA's budget, he said. He said he had advised the lawmakers he proposed to complete the shutdown operation in the first quarter of fiscal 1966, which starts July 1.

Giant Redwood For Every Lot

VISALIA, Calif. UPI — A giant redwood tree with every lot.

That's the motto of real estate broker Lewis C. Leppelman.

Leppelman, a natural resource enthusiast, decided some years ago to find a way to save the giant Sequoia trees and sell real estate at the same time.

He hit upon the idea of selling lots with one of the trees on them and it seems to have caught on.

"When the public found out about our lots, thousands of visitors poured into the tract to buy up the property—and the trees," he said.

Leppelman guarantees the safety of the trees by a clause in the deed that the trees must be protected.

"The ax is verboten," he said. "In fact, the only thing you don't need permission to remove are the wildflowers."

Leppelman is what his competitors call a wilderness real estate broker. He has sold hundreds of acres, subdividing the acreage in lots of from one-third to 10 or more acres.

"There are some who want to be remote but not too remote," he said. "They want to be remote in the sense that they like the wilderness, but they don't want to be remote in the sense that they are the only ones here."

Three Offices

Leppelman actually has three offices in three locations. The one with the redwood trees is called Sequoia Crest, six miles off California Highway 190.

The trees are from 35 to 2,500 years old and some are up to 95 feet in circumference. The larger ones contain enough wood to construct five two-bedroom houses.

"We're proud of the people who buy these trees," he said. "You don't see paper bags, bottles and beer cans strewn around the area like you do where the public doesn't give a hang."

He said many retired couples presently are building homes in the subdivision. "So many other people have asked up about owning a giant redwood that we've been forced to open another subdivision."

Leppelman said he believes recreational land such as he is subdividing will be gone. "It will be in very small parcels, and it will sell at premium prices," he said. "Many people realize this and are not going to be left out."

GAINS FAVOR

NEW YORK UPI — Easily adaptable fuchsias are growing in popularity for both indoor and outdoor use in shaded areas. Plunged in the soil in red clay pots beneath evergreens, they will brighten the base of trees or bushes, or enliven a shady porch window or window box with equal facility.

Design for Comfort

by ELEANOR WAY, Union Carbide's Fibers and Fabrics Styling Director

Those wonderful upholstery fabrics that look chic, wipe clean with a damp cloth and wear and wear without showing it in the least are a true delight to every woman.

Used for modern, functional pieces that serve more than one purpose in the home, they become absolutely indispensable. In just one instance, a handsome lounge chair with fingertip control (right) converts quickly to five different comfort positions. It becomes, in turn, a platform rocker, TV lounger, TV rocker and a full bed recliner. You really couldn't ask for much more, could you? And especially when National Furniture has covered it with Vileau vinyl fabric in a rich leathergrain pattern. No trouble, no work, no worries.

This same vinyl fabric has been used for a sleep couch (above) which converts readily to a double bed. Such a couch is a necessity in most modern homes, what with a shortage of guest rooms and an influx of summer visitors.

One of the newest patterns in Vileau is a contemporary hounds-tooth in a medium scale black pattern which comes in five basic background colors: white, tan, olive, crimson and nugget.

Another new pattern is an elegant, dramatic design of modern scale, printed in black on basic grounds in the same colorings as the hounds-tooth pattern.

Women who are fond of crewl work (and they are legion) will welcome another pattern, this in simulated crewl, in four-color combinations, each with a five-color print on a champagne background.

All of this just proves that a girl really can have everything if she just takes a good look at National Furniture.

WASHINGTON UPI — The Agriculture Department estimates sales of government-owned feed grains under the 1964-65 emergency livestock feed program will reach 65 million bushels by June 30.

The department said more than 60 million bushels of corn, oats, grain sorghums, and barley owned by the Commodity Credit Corp. already has been sold in 11 months of disaster aid under the emergency program. This is the largest quantity used during any similar period of the program's operation since it started in 1959. The previous record was set last year with the use of about 40 million bushels in the period of June, 1963, through May, 1964.

The emergency livestock feed program provides for sale at reduced rates of government-owned feed grains to farmers whose livestock has suffered because of floods, drought, or other natural disaster.

The program now is operating in about 200 counties of 13 states. This year the program was extended for 30 days from May 31 through June 30.

Last year, the program was not extended beyond the normal closing dates of May 31 in the northern states, May 15 in the central states, and April 30 in the southern states.

The emergency livestock feed program operated at one time or another during 1964-65 in a record total of 704 counties of 33 states. This compares with the record of 598 counties in 23 states set in the 1963-64 period.

The heaviest users of the CCC feed grains in 1964-65 were big dairy states. Drought conditions led all other disaster situations calling for emergency livestock aid.

In Wisconsin, with 34 counties designated for the feed program, total use amounted to 12.5 million bushels of feed grain. Other big users included New York, 33 counties, 8.5 million bushels; Minnesota, 44 counties, 6.3 million bushels; Missouri, 44 counties, 4.4 million bushels; Pennsylvania, 36 counties, 4.1 million bushels; Colorado, 35 counties, 2.4 million bushels; South Dakota, 23 counties, 2.3 million bushels; and Virginia, 29 counties, 2.1 million bushels.

Old Age Adds To Problems Of Retarded

LANDER, Wyo. UPI — The windows at Smith Cottage at the Wyoming State Training School are big and the rooms are sunny.

The 80 women living in the red brick structure are elderly. All also are mentally retarded.

For officials who run the state's only institution for the mentally retarded, the elderly women present strange problems and a big challenge.

The school's director, Dr. Fred Heryford, finds old age doing peculiar things with his theory on care for the mentally retarded.

"Now senility has overshadowed the problem of retardation and the problems have changed," Heryford said.

Built into the ends of the large rooms in Smith Cottage are a number of "cell" rooms, designed originally to lock up certain of the residents who were thought dangerous or who were considered hard to handle.

Heryford cannot place anyone in this category. He changed the use of the rooms from punishment to privilege.

It's all part of the incentive-opposed-to-punishment philosophy at the institution.

"These are truly privileged facilities," Heryford said, pointing to one of the converted cells, now a private room. It was complete with starched curtains, pictures, dozens of personal items, even a bird cage.

In the old folks ward at Smith Cottage, the privileged facilities go to the residents who do the best job of taking care of their belongings and selves.

"It's amazing how they really catch on to this," Heryford said. Another gigantic problem in caring for the aged mentally retarded in Smith Cottage is meeting the great variety of health needs, ranging from special diets to medication.

"We're gradually coming up to meeting the health needs," Heryford said.

Not the least of the problems are the pills. Almost every resident at Smith takes at least one pill daily. Some take several.

"Getting the right pill down the right person is sometimes a problem," Heryford says, "especially when some of them take them and spit them out."

to bring down upon him an economic boycott in which all commonwealth members would participate and the United States would join.

On the other hand, if he should declare independence, the British would be banned from sending in troops to change his mind. In any event, such British action would be extremely doubtful.

White Supremist Platform
Smith won office on a platform of white supremacy and intends to stay with it.

"The white man is the master of Rhodesia," he once said. "He has built it and intends to keep it."

But the white residents of Salisbury long since have stopped talking of a "white Christmas"—meaning independence under white man rule. Instead, they have settled into a split personality existence, torn by love of Queen and country and resentment against British insistence on eventual rule by the black majority.

The black Commonwealth nations are not expected to precipitate a crisis now. But in the end something will have to give. And working against Smith is the fact that Rhodesia's tobacco economy cannot stand isolation.

Foreign News Commentary

Salisbury, the gleaming, modern capital of Rhodesia, is the headquarters of Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian D. Smith.

Gonakudzingwa is a restriction camp of shining metal huts on ground cleared of thorn trees. It is close to the border with Mozambique, 200 miles from the nearest Rhodesian town. It is the current abode of Joshua Nkomo.

More than mere distance and a way of living separate the prime minister and Joshua Nkomo.

Ian D. Smith is the elected leader of the self-governing colony of Rhodesia and, more importantly, the leader of a white minority of 217,000 which is determined to maintain its rule over Rhodesia's black majority of nearly four million.

Jailed Nationalist Leader
Nkomo is a nationalist leader, one of nearly 2,000 Africans in jail or under detention on charges of political crimes or violence. They demand a conference which would rewrite the constitution to turn Rhodesian rule over to the black majority.

In London, as commonwealth prime ministers worked on the final communiqué of the largest commonwealth meeting ever held, the subject of Rhodesian independence occupied an important place.

Rhodesia is Britain's last colony in Africa. Ten former colonies are now independent black African nations and they were unanimous in demands that Britain act swiftly to turn Rhodesia over to African rule.

"Don't lack courage," Kenya Foreign Minister Joseph Murumbi advised Prime Minister Harold Wilson. "It is better to lose your majority in Parliament than your principles."

Judicial Impasse
Britain is committed to eventual Rhodesian independence, but the trouble was that all sides were at a judicial impasse. Rhodesia's constitution provides that Rhodesian independence can be gained only on approval of the British Parliament.

Also under the rules, Britain handles Rhodesia's foreign policy but cannot intervene internally.

The link and tough Ian Smith cannot declare independence unilaterally without being guilty of an illegal act certain

Summit Meet Showdown Due

ALGIERS UPI — Backed by Communist China, the new army-dominated Algerian regime today tried to keep Afro-Asian moderates from forcing postponement of next week's summit meeting.

A showdown was expected Saturday when foreign ministers of their deputies from most of the 80 nations invited to the June 29 meeting hold a preliminary session to discuss the issue.

The United Arab Republic (U. A. R.), which originally sided with the Red Chinese and Algerians in wanting the conference to open as planned, was reported having second thoughts and ready to switch camps. India led the moderate nations seeking a postponement.

The moderates feel a summit meeting at this time would be a political mistake, coming little more than a week after the overthrow of President Ahmed Ben Bella by armed forces Commander Col. Houari Boumedienne.

A postponement would be announced politely as a "recess."

Senate Will Get Health Care

WASHINGTON UPI — President Johnson's plan for health care for elderly persons was on its way today to floor consideration in the Senate. Debate was scheduled to begin following the Fourth of July recess.

The Senate Finance Committee Thursday cleared the floor a $6.8 billion health and welfare bill that includes the administration plan for hospital care financed through increased Social Security contributions.

Also included in the bill are a voluntary health insurance program that would pay doctor bills for persons over 65 and an across the board increase in Social Security benefits.

The measure drafted by the committee would total $800 million more than the version passed by the House earlier in the session. Most of the increases were contained in amendments which would liberalize the benefits in the House bill.

Some Senate supporters of the changes doubted whether they would be included in the final bill that will go to Johnson for enactment. The key programs in both bills were virtually assured of eventual passage, however.

Vienna Ready For King Tourist

VIENNA UPI — The way they have been bustling around there — polishing, painting, planting — you'd think royalty was coming. So it is. King Tourist himself.

He came 1 million strong last year, making Austria the third most visited country in Europe. And he stayed at least one week in this fabled country. (An additional 3.5 million tourists stayed overnight on the Paris-Rome trek).

But the fuss here is also for the home folk. The summer festival preparations signal the start of their own gay summer "season."

Theater, concerts, opera, the wine shops, coffee houses, gasthauses, St. Stephen's Cathedral and the monuments all take on new glow at this time of year.

To set the stage, 1,000 gardeners are digging into 989 parks and gardens in Vienna. There is no end to the weeding, lawn cutting and cleaning of fountain and pool.

Half a million roses have been tucked into all corners of the city and nurtured by recent rainfalls.

Electricians are working on state and private monuments with cables and spotlights to bathe them in light at night. Old St. Stephen's Cathedral will be lit up for the first time after years of face-lifting.

By day, bunting of red-white-red, the Austrian colors, will adorn the outside of the monuments. If they are privately owned, family colors will prevail.

Festival Program

This year's festival program, the 15th and called "Art in Freedom," harmonizes with the republic's anniversary celebrations. The famous "Four in a Jeep" occupiers of Austria in the 1945-1955 period have been, according to one wit, replaced by the "Four in a Theater." Scheduled to perform are the Theatre de France, the British Sadlers' Wells Opera, the Soviet Bolshoi Ballet and the American production of James Baldwin's "The Amen Corner."

In addition to the full festival program with famous orchestras and groups performing from around the world, there will be music all over the city. As weather permits, there are orchestral and band concerts in the arcades of the city hall, palaces and parks—music everywhere, including the traditional calliope at the Prater amusement park.

But there is more to Vienna's summer season than flowers, music and outdoor cafes. There is the incurable romanticism, which affects each visitor. The Austrians themselves encourage it. They are experts in the hospitality department. Even waiters have been through a

The National Window

President Johnson and his business advisers have been busy this month trying to knock down a Federal Reserve Board warning that the nation's economy may be in for some bad trouble.

Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin stated his concern for the economic situation in a June 1 speech. Martin's speech got LBJ's instant attention. No one knows better than the President and his associates what a shot of depression can do to the political party in power. Martin certainly did not predict a depression.

But Martin did cite some disturbing similarities between current conditions and the situation leading up to the great depression that began in 1929. Herbert Hoover and the Republican party were in power in 1929. The party has not yet recovered from the damage. Indeed, it is not certain that the Republicans have yet hit bottom.

Small wonder therefore that the President's business advisers have been busy since Martin spoke re-assuring the voters that all is well and will remain so, or even get better.

Sustained prosperity was the promise from Washington on June 19. Martin three weeks ago counseled Americans to beware of the dangers of currency inflation at home, of the problem of the balance of international payments and of a euphoria based on belief that prosperity is here to stay—forever.

Some weeks before Martin's speech, Tax Foundation Inc. of New York published an article by its chairman, Robert F. Tyson. His subject was: can government guarantee prosperity? His answer was: No! Tyson is chairman of the Finance Committee of U. S. Steel Corp.

Like Martin, Tyson cited inflationary and balance of payments hazards. He wrote that Johnson administration efforts to cope with the balance of payments problem were mostly a process of drift from one solution to the next, each weakening instead of strengthening the U.S. position. To that he added: "I suggest that such drifting can well lead to a flight from the dollar and perhaps to eventual devaluation of the dollar with all that entails."

Hobbs Is Ordered Back To Prison

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The Indiana Supreme Court Thursday ordered convicted embezzler Arnold G. Hobbs back to the Indiana State Prison.

The high court, by a verdict of 4 to 1 reversed LaPorte Circuit Court which had freed Hobbs in December, 1963. Hobbs was serving a 15-year term for embezzlement of funds from the Noble County Credit Union.

The actual money involved supposedly was $2 million but Hobbs was convicted only in connection with a $1,600 embezzlement.

A high court, in an opinion written by Judge Norman Arterburn, held that the LaPorte Circuit Court had no right in a habeas corpus action to review the judgment of Allen Circuit Court, which originally sentenced Hobbs.

Arterburn wrote that "it has never been a law in Indiana that one trial court may review the judgments or errors of another trial court by or through a writ of habeas corpus. . . . The Supreme Court of the State of Indiana was created for the purpose of finally determining errors of trial courts of this state."

The court took note of the charge that Hobbs' attorney apparently repudiated his own signed agreement in order "to help Hobbs escape the consequences of the agreement."

Arterburn wrote that matter would be referred to "a committee for action."

Judge Amos Jackson dissented from the majority and said Hobbs already has served as much time as he should have served.

A Woman's View

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK UPI — The great debate goes on. Is being a "mere" housewife and mother sufficient fulfillment for woman or does she feel "trapped" if these are her major roles?

"A mere housewife indeed! I'm proud to be a housewife, a wife-at-home to my husband," said Marguerite Kurth Frey, a pediatrician who has settled into domesticity with her husband Paul, a psychiatrist, and their 10 children ages 12 years to 9 months.

Said Barbara O'Neill, mother of four, who takes the opposite stand and returned to college because keeping a home was not sufficient: "With something of my own that seemed worthwhile and meaningful, I felt far more enthusiastic about taking my 3-year-old to see the ducks, helping my 4-year-old with her first halting attempts at reading, making cookies with my second-trader, playing scrabble with my 9-year-old."

New Publication

The two women were among the 32 whose essays on coping with today's problems are included in a new publication, "Why Young Mothers Feel Trapped."

The book is a compilation of writings which appeared originally in Redbook magazine.

The women continued the great debate in an interview during a visit to New York.

Said Mrs. Frey, 37, a tall pretty blonde, living in Ukiah, Calif., in the redwoods country, "I don't feel trapped. I'm too busy making furniture for the barn we're converting into a house, raising chickens, helping with our 94-acre ranch, actually a broken-down farm."

Basic Fulfillment
"I don't believe," she continued, "that a woman has to get away from the children ever so often. I can't see it. . . . I have a strong pleasant attitude. Things of the soil, hearth and home—these are the fundamental."

Mrs. O'Neill, 36, a slim, brown-eyed blonde, is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Wellesley College. She is a resident of New Canaan, Conn., and had worked as a magazine copy editor before her marriage to Robert O'Neill, editor in chief of House and Home magazine.

She said a 10th reunion of her Wellesley class made her "itchy" to do something more than care for a family. She now is at teachers college, Columbia University, studying for a new career in job counseling for women.

An Individual Matter
"I knew I was going to stop with four children," said Mrs. O'Neill. "No, I am not being selfish. My husband and I have contributed our bit to the population explosion."

She conceded that, "I don't feel that a career is for every woman. It's an individual matter. But I think a girl should have a skill before marriage. . . . an alternative for later years if she wants or needs one."

She feels her family benefited by her return to school. "I know now," she said, "that an alert wife is a more interesting companion and that a satisfied mother is a better one."

LBJ Speaks In San Francisco

KANSAS CITY, Mo. UPI — President Johnson, joining in a 20th anniversary tribute to the United Nations at San Francisco, carried a message of hope and peace today to that global body. But he also re-avowed U. S. determination to fight aggression when it challenges freedom.

The President was scheduled to speak at the U. N. commemorative ceremony at 2:30 p.m. EDT after flying to California from here. He came to Kansas breakfast at 9 a.m. EDT with former President Harry S. Truman.

Johnson was accompanied by Dr. Glenn Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Sens. Frank Carlson, R.Kan., and Frank Church, D-

Airplane Makes More Money On Ground Showing Industrial Goods

By JOHN PIERSON

WASHINGTON UPI—N774R is the only airplane in the world that makes more money sitting on the ground than flying.

Outwardly, it is a conventional DC7 once operated by Pan American World Airways. But inside, its cavernous cabin has been turned into a showroom for U.S. industrial products. It has 650 square feet of floor space for exhibits, a conference room and even office facilities.

N774R's owner is Global Presentations, Inc., the president, former airline pilot Charles A. Carroll, conceived the idea of turning an airplane into a flying showcase that could be leased by companies and flown anywhere in the world for product display.

In September, 1964, Global staged its first "Flying Trade Fair" with the Greater Hartford (Conn.) Chamber of Commerce as the customer. The DC7 was loaded with the products and services of 20 Hartford manufacturers. For one month, it toured Europe with stops at such cities as Paris, Rome, Milan, Zurich, Munich, Frankfurt, Berlin, Hamburg, Copenhagen, Brussels and London.

From that tour stemmed on-the-spot sales of $150,000 and more than $1 million in orders over the next 12 months. The Chamber of Commerce paid $60,000 to lease the aircraft.

'Yankee Peddler'
The DC7 on the inaugural trip was christened "Yankee Peddler." Now the same plane is on an 18-city tour of the United States, leased to the General Electric Company as a "Showcase of the Sky" for the products of five GE departments.

The plane is equipped with air-conditioning, piped-in music, movie projectors and facilities for display.

Success of the European trip for Hartford industries convinced GE the idea could be just as successful for a single manufacturer. The big advantage in the flying showcase concept is that it can cover an entire country or continent in a few weeks, with no time lost for setting up displays, dismantling or reshipping.

The federal government thinks enough of Global's operation to give it modest financial support as part of America's drive for increased exports. The first tour was financed partially by Department of Commerce funds.

Carroll believes his operation presages a new use for commercial air transportation.

"It has been said that an airplane is no good on earth," he commented. "But ours is the first to earn more money on the ground than in the air."

Pope To Visit United Nations

VATICAN CITY UPI — Pope Paul VI, increasingly preoccupied with the danger of world war, "almost certainly" will go to the United Nations in New York to make a plea for peace, high Vatican sources said today.

The said there is a "strong possibility" the trip might take place this fall, probably around Oct. 23.

The same sources had indicated last week the pontiff was "seriously considering" such a trip, but said the chances were it would not be until next year. Today, however, they said:

"The Holy Father almost certainly will go, and probably much sooner than had been expected. There is a strong possibility of his making a brief trip—probably around Oct. 23—that would last only two or three days."

HOUSTON UPI — Eleven of the 66 corporations in the United States that had sales of more than $1 billion in 1964 were oil companies, the Petroleum Equipment Suppliers Association reports.

LONDON BRIDGE TO FASHION

In the young fashion world, London Bridge now extends clear across the Atlantic—and shows no signs whatever of falling down.

The pert, perky English Look is well on its way to becoming an all-American fad. "With it" girls from Maine to California know it's modern to be "mod."

Those who can sew a fine seam can save a pretty penny on the new styles; McCall's, Pattern #7861 for example, features a new design similar to the famous British "Dolly Rockers."

It's a fresh new look, neither a smock nor a shift, with waistline gathered high under a smooth-fitting bodice underlined with a grosgrain ribbon sash. Big patch pockets add charm—and practicality. McCall's Pattern #7861 offers the dress in two versions: one sleeveless and scoop-necked, the other sporting turn-around ruffles on collar and long sleeves.

As McCall's fashion experts see the style, it works best in mad, mad combinations of pattern and color. For example, try teaming a polka-dot bodice with a striped skirt, or a solid-color bodice with a skirt in a houndstooth pattern—or any other "scrambles" that occur to you.

With a world of fashion excitement at her disposal, the young individualist is limited only by her imagination.

Nationals Clip Toppers In Extra Inning, 4-3

By FRANK PUCKETT, JR.
Sports Editor

National Food Producers right fielder Black connected with a fast ball and sent it through the legs of the Old Topper shortstop to knock in the winning run in the eighth inning of last night's softball action at Robe Ann Park where the Nationals beat the Old Topper team 4-3.

Neither team scored in the first inning of play, but the lively Nationals came to life with three big runs in the bottom of the second. Covert and Spencer occupied the bases when National shortstop Black stepped to the plate and collected two RBI's. Clary moved in on a pitch high and outside to roll one more run across the plate, giving the Nationals a 3-0 edge.

Old Topper finally scored when L. Sims scored off a single by Barnett in the bottom of the fourth inning.

With the score 3-1 the Old Topper team rallied in the sixth inning. It all started with Hammond's single. Chance then doubled to bring Hammond across the plate. K. Sims then struck out with Furney on deck. Furney tied into a high flying fast ball blasting himself a double and scoring Chance to tie the game.

Both teams failed to capitalize in the last inning of regulation play with the score standing 3-3.

In the top of the eighth, National shortstop Black made his bid for victory by slugging his way to a double and scoring Pettit to give the Nationals a one run lead.

The bottom of the eighth caught the Old Topper team failing to score and the game going to the Nationals 4-3.

Monday will catch the National Food Producers tangling with Clivedale at 8:15.

Hold Meeting

ST. LOUIS UPI — It's manager Red Schoendienst's move today after the world champion St. Louis Cardinals temporarily took their problems out of his hands with a closed meeting designed "to find out why the team is running scared."

Both Schoendienst and the players agreed, "we can't go on like this."

But, beyond that, it was not clear whether Schoendienst would respond to the players' action with sweeping fines and a general crackdown or prefer to ride out the situation.

Earns 4th Win Tracy Stallard

The St. Louis Cardinals routed Jim O'Toole in 3½ innings and went on to beat the Cincinnati Reds 11-4 and give Tracy Stallard his fourth win of the season. Bill White led the Cardinals' 12-hit attack with two doubles and a single. Phil Gagliano had a three-run homer and Mike Shannon had two hits.

Dick Ellsworth gained his fifth consecutive victory with a six hitter behind a nine-hit Cub attack that included three hits by Ernie Banks and two each by Glenn Beckert, Doug Clemens and Billy Williams. Tony Cloninger, a 10-game winner for the Braves, suffered his fifth setback.

Tony Gonzalez drove in the tie-breaking run in the sixth inning with a single and Dick Stuart added an insurance run with his 11th homer for the Phillies, who dealt San Francisco's Juan Marichal his sixth loss against 11 victories. Jim Bunning went five innings to pick up the win for the Phillies although Ray Herbert shut out the Giants for the last four frames.

Miss Albers met Rhonda Glenn of Palm Beach Junior College in today's finals. In the semi-finals, Miss Glenn defeated medalist and former winner Carol Sorenson of Arizona State, 3 and 2.

Babe Ruth Team Is Chosen For July Tourney

Managers and coaches met last night with president of the Babe Ruth League and chose the Tourney All-Star team. The team was chosen for play in a tourney at Terre Haute July 9 and 10.

Members chosen were Kevin See, David Hill, James Anderson, and Rich Lear of the Kiwanis; Terry Ross, Dennis Losin, Tom Clary, Chuck Even, and Mike Daren of the Elks; D. Monnett, Steve Bonney, and John Edmonds of the Moose; Jay Frye, Pete Norris, Craig Barrett, and alternate Joe Boswell of the Legion team.

The boys will meet some local opposition tonight at the senior high field at 5:00.

Herman Fumes at Disregard of Rules

CHICAGO UPI — Manager Billy Herman, fuming because he caught a group of his Boston Red Sox violating the team curfew early Thursday morning, has promised a crackdown on his players.

Herman fined a reported six players Thursday for not being in their hotel rooms in Baltimore after the 2 a.m. deadline, but would not reveal the names of the players or the amount of the fines.

"There will be more bed checks in the future," vowed Herman. "I wish now I had pulled this one earlier in the trip and I probably would have caught a lot more of the boys."

"To tell the truth, I was surprised by some of the guys I found in their rooms. I guess they got wind of the check."

"I'll chew them out in front of the whole team unless this business stops," Herman said, adding that he also is beginning a get-tough policy with any players who make stupid mistakes in the field.

Anders To Face Cary Ryan Today

BLOOMINGTON UPI — Comeback artist Steve Anders of Bloomington faced Gary Ryan of Muncie today in the 36-hole final round of the Indiana Junior Golf tourney.

Anders, apparently hopelessly beaten at the halfway point Thursday, came back in the afternoon to edge Joe Tilford, Indianapolis, 1-up on the 37th hole of what had been scheduled as a 36-hole semi-final. In the other semi-final, Ryan needed 31 holes for his 6 and 5 victory over Bill Schumaker of Fort Wayne.

Marty Fleckman Subs Title

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. UPI — Steady Marty Fleckman, who headed Houston's successful drive for its 8th NCAA golf team championship in 10 years, rode a record 9-under-par 135 into the tournament's final round today in his bid for the individual title.

Fleckman held a four-stroke lead over the closest challenger, Santa Clara's Jim Weichers, as the narrowed field began play over the final 36 holes at Holston Hills Country Club.

Greencastle Has Six In State Jaycee Track Meet

Greencastle will have six representatives at the Jaycee Track and Field Meet that is to be held at Franklin High School Saturday, June 26.

Representing Greencastle in the 100 yard dash, the broad jump, and relay race will be track favorite Ray Churchill. Running in the 220-yard dash will be Louis Luzar. Luzar will also help out in the relay race. Tuning up on his specialty will be Craig Hammond in the high jump event.

John Phillips will undertake the gruelling half-mile run. Also entered in the 100 yard dash will be Harold Henry.

And last, but certainly not least will be Fillmore track star Jim Craig, who will be representing Greencastle in the 440 yard relay.

Coach McCammon has had practice with the boys and is hoping for the best. The representatives will leave the senior high school at 9:15 Saturday morning.

COUNTY BOYS ATTEND BASKETBALL CAMP

Being exposed to the finer points of basketball, these boys will be completing an activity-packed week at DePauw University's Sports Camp this Saturday (June 26) with an honors picnic. Conducted by DePauw's basketball coach, Elmer McCall, the camp enrolls 60 boys in grades six through nine. In addition to basketball tips from McCall, twice coach of Indiana high school champs, four more top Hoosier high school coaches spend time instructing the campers. The young athletes participate also in bowling, swimming, tennis and ping pong as well as intramural basketball in the evenings. Their camp home is a campus fraternity house. Pictured with Coach McCall are back row, left to right: Fred Cox, Greencastle; Sam Lashley, Roachdale; Eddie McBride, Greencastle; Robert Brown, Stilesville; (front row, left to right) Rex Steele, Bainbridge; Gary Richard, Greencastle; Marty Evans, Bainbridge; Steve Judy, Greencastle; and Gregg Richard, Greencastle.

Still In Action

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. UPI — Four Indiana collegians were still in action going into today's final 36 holes of the NCAA golf championship but all appeared to be out of contention for the individual title.

The team championship, won by Houston with a 577 total, was decided on the basis of scores in the first two rounds Wednesday and Thursday. Purdue made the best showing with a fourth-place tie with Florida at 94, 17 strokes behind Houston. Indiana had 609 and Notre Dame 610. Purdue also managed to get two of its five players into the finals while Indiana and Notre Dame had one each.

Ward Signs

HOUSTON, Tex. UPI — Houston oil millionaire John Mecom has joined forces with driver Roger Ward and mechanic George Bignotti to form a new racing team for next year's Indianapolis 500-mile race.

There were also some reports that the team, formed at a meeting of the three here Wednesday, might begin operations on the United States Auto Club championship circuit this year. However, Ward is still under contract for the remainder of the year to Bob Wilke of Milwaukee, Wis.
